WELCOME

From Pastor Walter August Jr.

Grace and peace to you in the name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ!

It is my honor to welcome you to One Church at Bethel's Family. We exist to love God, love people, and make a lasting impact in our community and around the world.

This Ministry & Business Guide is more than a directory—it's a reflection of who we are, what we believe, and how we serve. Within these pages, you will find ministries that meet real needs, businesses that strengthen our community, and resources that inspire growth.

My prayer is that this guide helps you discover new opportunities to grow in faith, connect with others, find support, and serve with purpose.

Together, we are building something greater than ourselves—God's Kingdom.

Pastor Walter August Jr.

OUR CHURCH HISTORY

A Legacy of Faith - A Future of Impact

One Church at Bethel's Family began with a simple but powerful vision — to love God, love people, and make a lasting impact in our community and around the world.

What started as a faithful remnant gathering in worship has grown into a vibrant, multi-generational church family committed to discipleship, service, and transformation.

Through every season, God has remained faithful, guiding us, providing for us, and expanding our reach.

For the LORD is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations.

Psalms 100:5

The Beginning: Vision Becomes a Church

Bethel's Family began on January 21, 1994 in the August home with 13 people, laying the foundation for a growing church, soon expanding into Huntington Place Apartments.

The Foundation: A Place to Call Home

A growing congregation secured a permanent home, creating space for worship, children's ministry, and the continued expansion of the church family.

The Expansion

Bethel's vision expanded beyond worship as the Bethel's Place Empowerment Center brought ministry, resources, services, and community development together.

The Multiplication

The vision grew beyond one congregation as Bethel's Family continued planting churches and developing a family of churches connected by one Kingdom vision, birthing the One Church model.

A Brighter Tomorrow

Through crisis, outreach, missions, and new ministry initiatives, Bethel's Family continues to adapt, serve, and expand its impact in Houston and beyond.

WELCOME

From Yolanda R. Williams

At One Church at Bethel's Family, we believe business is more than a profession—it is a ministry. God has entrusted entrepreneurs, professionals, and business owners with unique gifts to serve others, create opportunities, and make a lasting Kingdom impact.

Bethel's Business Network exists to connect, empower, and elevate faith-driven businesses by creating opportunities for visibility, collaboration, education, and growth. Through meaningful relationships and shared resources, we strive to build a community where businesses thrive while remaining rooted in faith, integrity, and service.

Within these pages, you'll discover businesses, valuable resources, and inspiring stories that demonstrate what's possible when believers support one another.

Together, we are investing in future entrepreneurs, supporting educational scholarships, and building a legacy that extends beyond commerce into community impact. Thank you for being part of this growing movement. Together, let's connect, grow, and build God's Kingdom—one business at a time.

— OUR STORY —

My love for baking started with recipes passed down from my Grandmother, lovingly known as Mrs. Buttercup.

One Thanksgiving, I was walking through the hospital where I worked, giving away mini pies to employees and patients. Before long, people started searching for "the pie lady" to find out where they could buy a pie.

That small gesture turned into Shugah Pies.

Or as our customer family says...

"Whew Chile!"

BECOME A FOSTER PARENT TODAY!

Kinship

Kinship Care is a program in which families caring for children of relatives, may be eligible to receive financial assistance. Kinship Care makes sure that the living arrangements are safe.

1 ARCHANGEL
FOSTER AND ADOPTION AGENCY

Foster Care

Foster care is an opportunity to provide children who have experienced the trauma of abuse or neglect a sense of serenity. We provide refuge to children ranging from birth to 18 from all racial and ethnic backgrounds. Foster parents are essential to providing stable, temporary homes that protect and nurture these children into a Stable Life.

Become A Foster Parent

- *Be at least 21 years of age, financially stable
- *Complete an application
- *Share information regarding background and lifestyle
- *Provide relative and non-relative references.
- *A Foster Parent can be single, married, divorced, or widowed
- *Agree to a home study which includes visits with all household members
- *Allow staff to complete a criminal history background check and an abuse/neglect check on all adults in the household
- *Attend free training to learn about issues of abused and neglected children. The Foster verification process with 1AFA takes about two to three months.

Adoption

Unlike foster care, adoption is an opportunity for children to have a "Home Of Placidity" when they are unable to live safely with their birth parents.

BEAUTY, WELLNESS, CARE BUSINESS TIP

Build Trust. Serve Well. Grow With Purpose.

Great service is about more than what you provide. People remember how you made them feel, how consistently you showed up, and whether they felt genuinely cared for.

Build a business experience that makes people feel seen, valued, informed, and confident from the first interaction to the follow-up.

01

CREATE A WELCOMING EXPERIENCE

First impressions matter.

Make it easy for clients to understand your services, pricing, policies, and next steps. A clean, professional, welcoming experience builds confidence before the appointment even begins.

02

COMMUNICATE CLEARLY

Good communication builds lasting relationships.

Respond promptly, explain what clients can expect, answer questions honestly, and follow up when appropriate. Clear communication prevents misunderstandings and strengthens trust.

03

MAKE CARE PERSONAL

Your clients aren't transactions.

Learn their preferences, remember important details, listen to their concerns, and look for small ways to make their experience better. Personalized care creates connection—and connection creates loyalty.

04

PROTECT YOUR REPUTATION

Your reputation is built one interaction at a time.

Show up professionally, honor your commitments, maintain appropriate boundaries, protect client information, and address concerns with honesty and grace.

EDUCATION, COMMUNITY EMPOWERMENT BUSINESS TIP

Educate.
Uplift.
Empower.
Create Change.

Stronger communities are built through education, opportunity, and people who care.

Whether you run a school, mentorship program, training initiative, nonprofit, or community-focused business, your work creates real impact.

By sharing knowledge, providing resources, and creating access, you help individuals and families reach their full potential—and build a brighter future for everyone.

01 | KNOW YOUR COMMUNITY Understand the needs. Listen first.

Take time to learn about the people you serve. Identify real needs, gaps in resources, and opportunities for growth. Host conversations, surveys, or community meetings to stay connected and informed.

02 | CREATE ACCESS Remove barriers. Open doors.

Find practical ways to make education, training, and resources accessible. This could include scholarships, free workshops, flexible scheduling, transportation support, or digital resources. The easier it is to participate, the greater the impact.

03 | BUILD PARTNERSHIPS Stronger together.

Collaborate with local schools, businesses, nonprofits, faith organizations, and government programs. Partnerships expand your reach, bring in new resources, and create more opportunities for the community you serve.

04 | MEASURE YOUR IMPACT Track progress. Tell the story.

Keep track of key results like the number of people served, programs completed, success stories, and long-term outcomes. Share your impact through photos, testimonials, and reports to build support and inspire others to get involved.

FROM GRANDMA'S KITCHEN TO A FAMILY LEGACY

How LaBarbara Edison turned cherished recipes and word-of-mouth into Shugah Pies—and a business she hopes to pass down to her sons.

THE BEGINNING

LaBarbara Edison's love for baking began in her grandmother's kitchen. As the oldest of seven, it was her special place to learn, laugh, and create. Around 2010, she began giving away mini pies during the holidays. People kept asking, "Where can I buy these?" So she made a business card.

Shugah Pies was born.

THE JOURNEY

Working at MD Anderson, LaBarbara's pies quickly became a sought-after treat among patients and staff.

Word spread. Demand grew. What started as a part-time passion soon became something much bigger. At the height of the holidays, she was baking 200–300 pies for Thanksgiving and Christmas—until she created a better way.

I just want to focus on this to grow my business. Lord willing, it will be something that my sons will have when I'm gone.

— LABARBARA EDISON

THE TURNING POINT

About three years ago, LaBarbara developed homemade frozen pie fillings so customers could enjoy a hot, homemade pie anytime. The fillings can be frozen for up to a year and a half, based on testing. Today, her five signature flavors are crafted from the same cherished recipes she learned from her granny.

BUILDING WHAT COMES NEXT

LaBarbara is working to get her pie fillings into retail stores, starting with Pyburn's Farm Fresh Foods, with dreams of reaching H-E-B and Walmart one day. The journey hasn't been easy—packaging requirements and costs have been a major challenge.

Her plan is to partner with a co-packer to scale production while keeping the homemade flavor and quality her customers love. Her ultimate goal? A six-figure—or more—business that creates jobs in her community and a lasting legacy for her family.

DON'T PUT YOURSELF IN A BOX

How Cortnee “Chef Coco” Williams turned a passion for food into a growing culinary brand.

THE BEGINNING

For nearly two decades, Cortnee Williams dedicated her life to education. She taught biology. She coached teachers. She worked in leadership and administration. But over time, her passion for education began to change—while her love for cooking continued to grow.

With the encouragement and support of her husband, she took a leap of faith, retired from education, and stepped into entrepreneurship.

THE TURNING POINT

Cortnee knew cooking was her calling, but building a business required a new set of skills. She enrolled in a 10-week entrepreneurship program through the Houston Urban League, learning about pitching, funding, and the business side of entrepreneurship. During Black Entrepreneurs Week, she entered a pitch competition—and won the top prize of $5,000 to invest in her business.

Don't put yourself in a box.

— CORTNEE “CHEF COCO” WILLIAMS

THE JOURNEY

What started as a catering idea has grown into so much more. Today, Coco's Creations is home to Queen of Cajun-Q—a mobile barbecue experience that blends smoked meats with bold Louisiana-inspired flavor.

From weddings and baby showers to community events and large gatherings, Chef Coco has catered for up to 300 people and served a repass for 250.

Her trailer is more than a kitchen on wheels—it's the foundation of a dream that keeps expanding.

BUILDING WHAT COMES NEXT

Cortnee teaches children's cooking classes, competes in barbecue cookoffs, and pursues larger catering and corporate opportunities.

Her next goals include a full food truck, building a team, and taking Queen of Cajun-Q beyond Houston—across Texas and the Southwest. She envisions multiple trucks, bigger contracts, and a million-dollar business that creates generational wealth for her family. Her story is proof that one idea can open the door to many possibilities—if you stay open to them.

How Karl Brown turned decades of experience into a mission of helping people live safer lives.

THE BEGINNING

After building a career in the heavy machinery industry, Karl Brown wanted more. His experiences with assault and his eventual career in law enforcement led him to combine his knowledge of tactical operations, self-defense, firearms, and emergency medical response.

The first formal class representing Knights Self Protection Services was held in July 2003. What began as a way to share skills and knowledge has grown into more than two decades of training and service.

THE WHY

Brown believes everyday people should be better prepared when something goes wrong. Through law enforcement, he repeatedly saw bystanders become witnesses rather than active in an emergency. He believes that the people already present when crisis occurs can become the real first responders.

“The biggest payouts are not always monetary.”

— KARL BROWN

THE JOURNEY

For more than 20 years, Knights has grown primarily through word of mouth and testimonials. Brown has trained everyone from people who had never held a firearm to military and SWAT operators. His approach is rooted in making knowledge accessible, regardless of someone's starting point. For Brown, these experiences confirm that this is more than a business—it is a ministry.

He also remains committed to learning himself, describing his approach as that of a “forever student.”

BUILDING WHAT COMES NEXT

As Brown approaches retirement from law enforcement, he plans to establish a brick-and-mortar training facility where his full curriculum can be offered in one location. His vision is for training that is fun, safe, realistic, and productive—while creating a more positive association between African Americans and responsible firearms education.

Ultimately, Brown wants his work to be remembered for one thing: helping people live safer lives.

KINGDOM BUSINESS TAKEAWAY

PREPAREDNESS IS SERVICE.

The value of what you teach may not become visible until someone needs it. For Karl Brown, the greatest return isn't always financial. Sometimes it's knowing that something you taught helped someone make it home safely.

FEATURED BUSINESS

BUILT FROM LOVE. DESIGNED TO SERVE.

How Kasandra turned her desire to honor her son into a business committed to serving families of children with disabilities.

THE BEGINNING

Kasandra never planned to become an entrepreneur. After earning her bachelor's degree in 2004, she built a career in education—as a teacher, special education teacher, educational diagnostician, and now school psychologist.

Becoming the mother of a special needs child opened her eyes to new ways of serving families. She always wanted to honor her son, Kaleb, but didn't know how. A conversation with a coworker finally encouraged her to bring the ideas she had been writing down to life. Kaleb's Corner was born.

THE TURNING POINT

Kasandra brings professional experience and personal understanding to her work. She understands the school system and the realities families face because she has lived them. Unlike businesses focused on one disability, Kaleb's Corner is designed to serve families across all disabilities.

God has prepared you for this. You are capable. You have people in your corner.

— KASANDRA BOOZER

THE EARLY STRUGGLE

Building the business while working full-time has meant navigating funding, certifications, consistency, and an entirely new business world.

But when doubt comes, Kasandra remembers her why. She is still learning—and believes that's part of the process.

Kasandra says she is still building toward the full vision, but every expo and networking event brings encouragement and new ideas.

WHAT SUCCESS LOOKS LIKE

Kasandra's proudest moment came during the church's Juneteenth celebration, when she launched an initiative to raise money toward a building. Seeing her younger son—a college student and business major—help tell people about the family business made the moment even more meaningful. She saw a glimpse of a future where Kaleb's Corner could become a family legacy.

Kasandra hopes to obtain a building to serve more families while continuing mobile services. Future plans include becoming a respite care provider and eventually creating a group home.

SERVICES OFFERED

Kaleb's Corner offers practical support for individuals and families navigating special education and developmental needs. Services include IEP reviews, behavior support, parent and professional training, academic enrichment, respite care, inclusive Social Saturdays, and family advocacy—helping families access resources, build confidence, and create greater opportunities for independence. All services start at $50.
